FLASH (Friends Learning And Sharing Hope) Adaptive T-Ball Division

For the 3rd year in a row, CBSI will be offering an Adaptive T-ball Division called "FLASH" for ages 4-10 years old with physical and developmental disabilities. The focus will be on basic baseball skills and social skills. Volunteers have experience working with children with special needs and adapting as needed. Peer models will also join to model skills and be a buddy. The season will run from April-May and sessions will be skills-based with no regular games. Cost will be $15. Please reach out with any questions! Please also visit the FLASH website for more information about their cause (<https://www.thekaseproject.org/flash>).

CBSI would like to thank village leaders, team sponsors and parent volunteers who help to make CBSI a strong organization that provides opportunities to Chatham's boys and girls. We look forward to another great year of fun on the ball diamonds.

Please feel free to reach out with any questions.
